Message from The Vice-Rector

We are delighted for the publication of the PSC Annual Report 2019. I and our faculty members are very proud of PSC achievements highlighted in this report. Our staff members are incredibly energetic, professional and hardworking on their works which led PSC in achieving brilliant success. PSC, the apex training center of Bangladesh Police and an institute for higher research in policing issues, makes difference every year and gets one step ahead, which is portrayed in this Annual Report. Therefore, this Annual Report is a snapshot of performance, achievements and prospects of PSC. We have been going through transformation over the past few years and it is not easy to assess the transformational impact from a single year's results. However, when compared, it is vividly clear just how much change has taken place in such a short span of time. We have revealed all relevant information in the form of Annual Report for the interest groups and the citizens of the nation. Publication of this Annual Report will promote the transparency and accountability to its stakeholders. I personally appreciate this laudable effort on the part of PSC. I would like to record my sincere and heartiest thanks to all the members of the Board of Governors, members of the faculty, and the employees for their talent and passion. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This Annual Report will give an opportunity to let you know about the Police Staff College (PSC) and its dynamic performances over the year 2019. It reflects that our efforts are aligning to our vision and mission which denotes as very impressive, adaptive, innovative and productive. It also illustrates how we are advancing to our commitments and goals.

During 2019, we have made some notable improvements which better articulates the role of PSC towards its vision as a think tank for national security. This annual report portrayed our strategic goals. It details our efforts to influence police leaders, to shed light on academic endeavor, to create significant collaboration with other organizations, to provide insights to policies and strengthen PSC in terms of both academic and infrastructural development. Among those successes, the most striking are the first ever introduction of Mid-Career Course named, “1st General Administration and Financial Management Certificate Course” for Additional SPs held on 22 September to 7 November, 2019.

Developing and introducing mid-career training programs for the three tiers of police professionals ranging from ASP to SP is a significant and praiseworthy step of PSC during 2019. These training programs have been designed in collaborative partnerships with reputed international institutions and universities in order to make these designated officers efficient and productive to the next level. These training courses were made compulsory so that these courses could be meaningful, effective and actionable. These programs will be instrumental to make our officers confident, pragmatic, productive and up-to-date in facing the challenges of contemporary policing through networking and sharing of best practices.

Last year, PSC showed a considerable growth of its courses and participants from those of 2018. In 2019, PSC hosted forty three training courses that included six core courses and one mid-career course all together comprising 1133 participants from various professions, ranks and backgrounds. We also arranged a partnership course named “Policing Capabilities Program for Asia and South Pacific” with the INTERPOL, and the 6th SAARC Course in 2019. Apart from these, PSC conducted several partnership courses with ATA, US Embassy, Dhaka and 8 workshops in the year of 2019.

Our academic endeavor got new impetus with an academic visit of five members PSC delegation to Macquarie University, Australia from 29th April to 3rd May 2019 as part of the MoU, signed between Police Staff College Bangladesh and Macquarie University, Australia back in 2017. PSC delegation proposed to send officers from Bangladesh Police in Macquarie University as part of the Mandatory Training to be held in PSC and Macquarie Authority consented accordingly. In another note, PSC proposed Macquarie to assist in Curriculum Development of ‘Security Studies’ and ‘Cyber Security’ which will be inducted in PSC. Macquarie assured in this regard and Australian Institute of Police Management (AIPM) assured to welcome Police Officers from Bangladesh in its International Police Partnerships Program that includes joint training, joint seminars/conference, exchange of information and resources.

The fourth batch of students in the Applied Criminology and Police Management (MACPM) course was enrolled, while the result of the 3rd batch of MACPM was published in due time. Our teachers' panel got even richer with the inclusion of the renowned resource persons from diverse profession and background. During the 2018-19 fiscal year, PSC conducted 4 research projects completed by eminent researchers of the country with the active participation and supervision of the research branch of PSC.

The following research projects were accomplished during the year-2019:

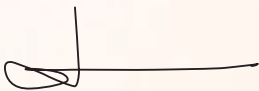

1. Socio-economic Dimensions of Police Work in the Society: An Impact Analysis
2. Capacity Building of Bangladesh Police: Higher Study as a tool for professional development
3. Police Mobility and Demand of Police Transport: A Rural and Urban Comparative Study
4. Factors that Influence Police Personnel's Behavior in Professional work: A Study

Among these research works, the first one (Impact Analysis) was conducted by a proficient team led by renowned Professor Abul Barkat, Ph.D. One of the key findings of this research was the positive impact of investment in policing: the benefit-cost ratio is more than one. Meaning, for 1.00 (one) taka spent on policing, the benefit received by the society through reduction of crime is about 1.85 taka on average. This research is one of the very few of its kind globally and PSC is the only institution in South Asia that has conducted it.

Over the past year, our engagements with development partners like-- Australia's renowned academia - Macquarie University, various foreign diplomatic missions located in Dhaka such as US Embassy, Embassy of Turkey, UNDP,-- got stronger than ever and continues to thrive. What's more, we have found new friends in-- Ministry of Public Security, China, and access to information (a2i) program etc. Their engagement with PSC is one of the great drivers of PSC's endeavor for excellence.

One of the greatest achievements of 2019 is the securing of first position by PSC at Annual Performance Agreement (APA) amongst all units of Bangladesh Police.

I would like to show my profound gratitude to the Rector and Vice Rector of PSC for their unconditional support and valuable advice in preparing this Annual Report. I appreciate and thank all the PSC staff, in particular, my team of Academic and Research Wing for their diligence, hard work, sincerity and assiduous effort to bring this report into existence. I wish you all the best!

Meeting Our Strategic Goals

Goal 1 : Influence and Enhance Police Leadership, Prudence and Professionalism.

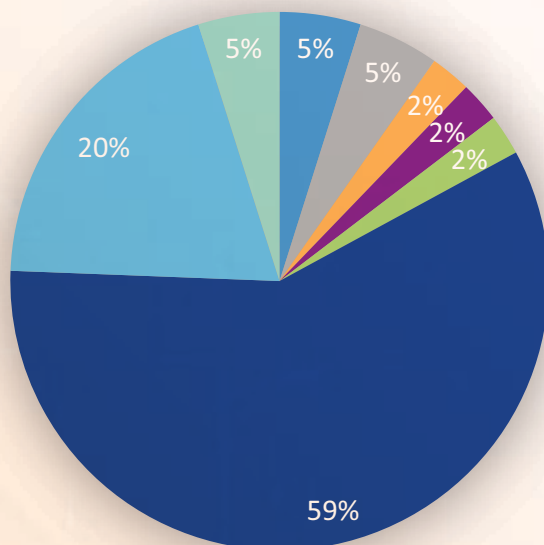

Police Staff College Bangladesh (PSC) is the apex training and research institution of Bangladesh Police, supporting and influencing police professionals and other personnel from various government/non-government agencies towards better service delivery, better practice and better security for the citizens.

Strategy : Provide quality trainings to police leaders to make them capable of and efficient in meeting contemporary policing needs.

Diversity in Courses to Accommodate Maximum Levels of Police Leaders.

Throughout the year 2019, PSC was prolific in delivering widespread Mid-career courses, specialized courses and regional courses designed for different ranks ranging from ASP to DIG. This year PSC has delivered core courses as follows: Two Police Management Certificate Courses (PMC) , two Crime Administration Management Certificate Courses (CAMC) for ASPs and Addl SPs; Police Financial Management Certificate (PFMC) Course for Addl SPs; 1st General administration & Financial Management Certificate Course, Orientation Course for ASP Probationers, Seminar course titled “Research Needs Analysis: Scope & Challenges” and Workshop on ‘The Finalization of Mid-Career Training Curriculum”.

During 2019, PSC was successful to conduct its all types of courses in equal proportion for various levels of police leaders.

■ FMC ■ CAMC ■ MIDCAREEAR ■ SAARC ■ INTERPOL ■ PARTNERSHIP ■ WORKSHOP ■ SEMINAR

This year PSC provides one regional course for the 6th consecutive time on “Transnational Crime: SAARC Perspective” for the SPs of SAARC region. Besides, PSC conducted two INTERPOL courses which were “Policing Capabilities Programme for Asia and South Pacific” and “Training on the fight against Pharmaceutical Crime and Products Affecting Consumer’s Health”

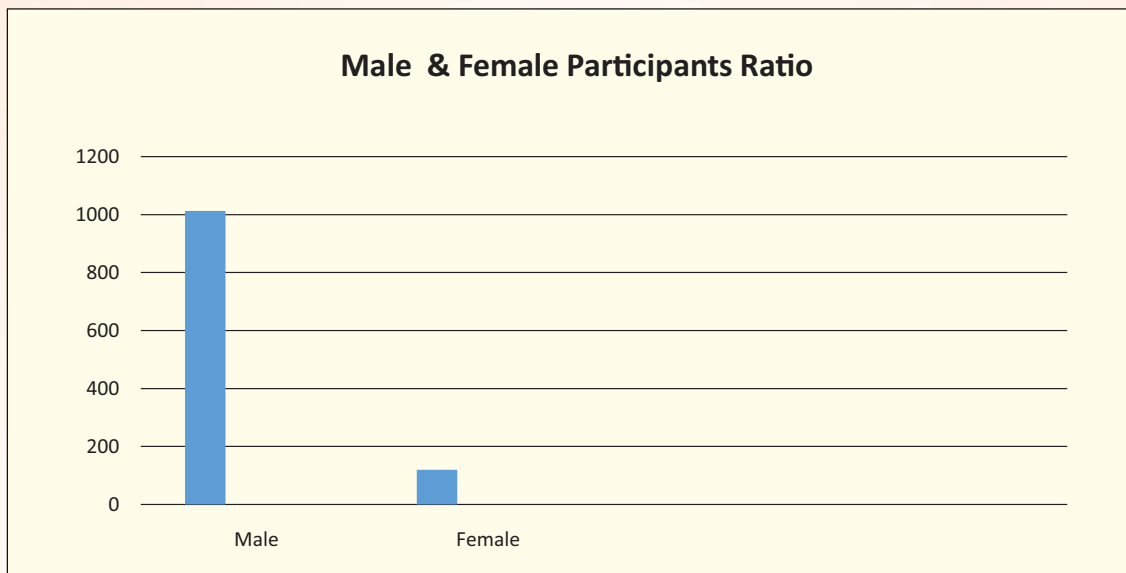

During 2019, PSC was successful to conduct its target area courses on need basis for various levels of police. It is evident that the participants of PSC have been increased in 2019 than previous year. In 2019, 43 courses accommodated 1133 participants while in 2018 as many as 869 participants attended in 41 courses.

Strategy : Make the Training Programs Career Focused and Compulsory.

PSC introduced Mid-career training programs for the police leaders ranging from ASP to SP at each level in a phase basis to prepare them to be competent for the next level and acquire necessary skills, knowledge and attitude to render their professional duties with diligence and prudence. These training programs are conducted in collaboration with international academia/organizations.

Strategy : Make the Training Programs Inclusive, Extensive and Participatory

PPSC seeks to make courses involving and focus on gender inclusiveness although the current scenario has massive room for improvement. The male-female ratio in Bangladesh Police is heavily skewed on the male side; hence women are under represented in training. Despite the limitations, PSC is trying its best to be more inclusive and gender-sensitive in conducting training. However, the current scenario needs to be improved- which the senior management recognizes. Statistically, Total 1013 male and 120 female had participated in different PSC courses in 2019. In future, PSC plans to train more female officers to bring the balance.

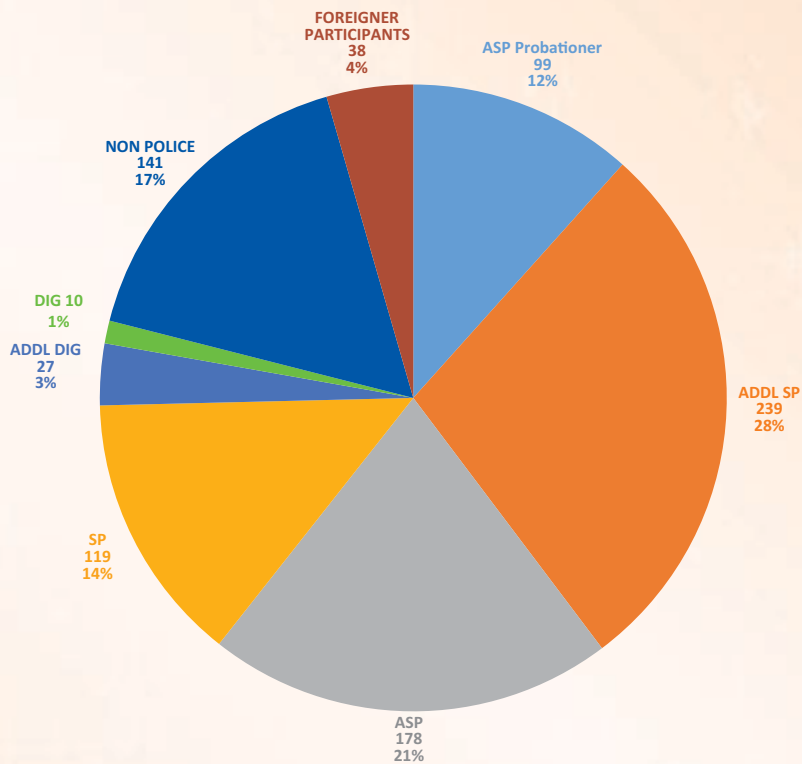

Females were less attendee at PSC

Accommodating Wide-Ranging Participants :

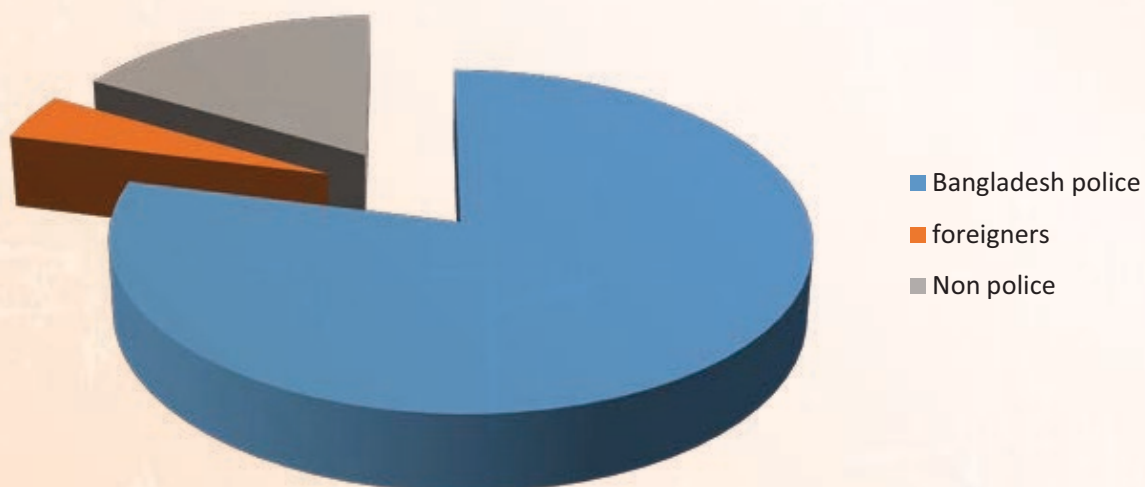

PSC accommodated extensive participants ranging from new to the most experienced ones last year. PSC provided training to total 672 participants from Bangladesh Police officials in varying ranks. The highest numbers of trainees came from Additional SP rank which was followed by the rank of SP. Among the total graduates 99 were ASP probationers, 178 were ASPs, 239 Additional SPs, 119 SPs, 27 were Addl.DIGs and 10 were DIGs. From the SAARC course, a total 19 participants (13 from Bangladesh Police and 6 participants from SAARC countries) and from the specialized course a total 22 participants (5 from Bangladesh Police and others from different countries) graduated in 2019. Total 38 foreigners from different countries graduated at PSC in various programs.

Strategy : Developing Curricula Maintaining a High Level of Methodical Rigor

Curriculum Development Grounded under Various Methods of Training Evaluation such as Training Impact Analysis and Training Need Assessment

PSC Courses are generally formulated through a long passage of curriculum development. It comes through a process of requirements from research output, organizational requirements, job task analysis, government and organizational training policy and Police policy group. It gives priority on Training Need Assessment (TNA) and Impact Analysis of training. Findings from these processes are used to design the courses of PSC. Discussion groups, problem-solving exercises, case studies, field visits, panel discussions are arranged to provide necessary and advanced knowledge, skills and positive attitude to the participants. To put emphasis on these requirements, PSC invites resource persons and makes expert panel from different public universities and research organizations, policy analysts and retired police officers. Course curricula are developed by PSC faculty members in association with resource persons.

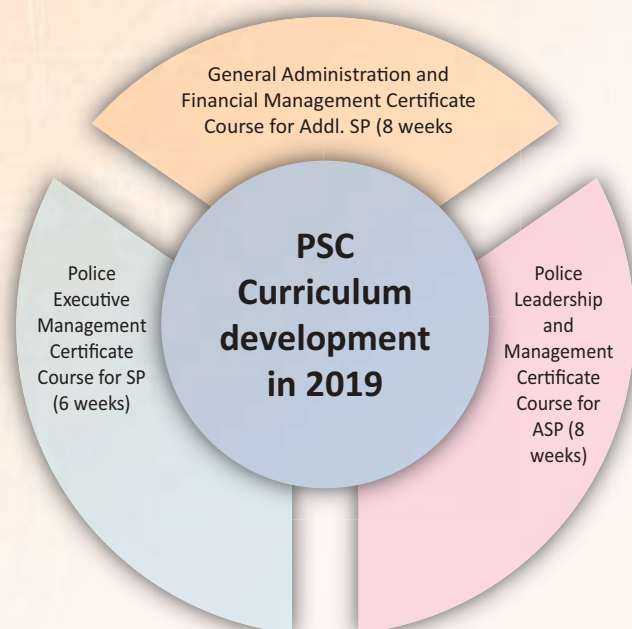

Flow Chart Of Curriculum Development:

During her visit, Professional development through Fellowship programs to facilitate the visit of Bangladeshi police officers to Macquarie was discussed. Macquarie ensured that they would look into the issue.

Police Staff College also proposed to send two teams (each team comprising 25 officers) of Senior Police Officers to Macquarie University each year with the cost of the Bangladesh Government. Macquarie agreed to conduct a study tour on February, 2020. It is mentionable that PSC will be immensely benefitted to have more than two such programs in each year.

Professor Dr. Martina Mollering with the faculty members of PSC

Strategy: Building International Network :

Due to the globalization of crime, rapid escalation of new threats necessitated PSC to broaden its educational framework in global arena. This initiative created new learning opportunities and new capabilities from the international partners such as Macquarie University, Sydney ,Australia.

Goal 4: Provide Values and Insights of Security, Criminology, and Policing Research to the National and International Platforms

Strategy: Communicate Evidence-Based Research to Policy and Practice

To meet its strategic goals, PSC is committed to undertake and support quality research to deliver best to the community. In this persuasion PSC's Academic & Research Wing is a dedicated research and knowledge center on crime and justice in Bangladesh Police. Its research priorities are aligned with Bangladesh Police Research Agenda. The main motto of PSC's research is to promote justice and reduce crime through communicating evidence-based research to policy and practice. The research works here are regulated under Police Staff College

Act, 2002. The research outcomes are sent to the Police Headquarters for further actions. Throughout the year, PSC was regular in its research and publications. Three research projects were accomplished in 2018-19 and four are undergoing. The research outcomes were valuable and insightful. Apart from this, PSC published its Newsletters and Annual Report as a regular fashion. Through academic persuasion, research and journal publication, PSC continues to build the bridges between contemporary policing and academia.

The following research projects were accomplished during the year 2019

RESEARCH INITIATIVE ON THE OCCASION OF BIRTH CENTENARY OF BANGABANDHU AND ‘MUJIB BARSHO’

“Bangabandhu’s Vision of Law Enforcement: Policing in Bangladesh”

Introduction

On the occasion of birth centenary of the father of the nation Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibar Rahman, Police Staff College Bangladesh has proposed to conduct a research on Bangabandhu’s policing thoughts and finally the title of the research was finalized as, “Bangabandhu’s Vision of Law Enforcement: Policing in Bangladesh.” This title was approved by the Inspector General Bangladesh Police in October, 2019. An expert team consisting of members from Police Headquarters, Police Staff College Bangladesh and renowned university academicians will conduct the research program within one (01) year.

Concept Note

This research aims to explicate the way in which Bangabandhu Sheik Mujibur Rahman encountered police force throughout his political struggle during the colonial and Pakistan period; his vision for policing to serve better in the independent Bangladesh. In order to understand the origin of Bangladesh police and its pro-people root, it is necessary to understand the history of Bangladesh Police by using the lens of Bangabandhu’s dream. However, there is no research work which examine these important issues and therefore the proposed study aims to contribute significantly to the relevant knowledge with the claim of originality in this field. This research will be an archival and empirical study.

Research Objectives

Research Objective 1 : To explore, capture and synthesize the dreams, thoughts and ideas of Bangabandhu on law enforcement objectively in a scientific manner.

Specific research objectives under this broad objective are-

- i. To explore the reasons behind the emergence of Bangabandhu as a great political leader of Bangladesh.
- ii. To explore the challenges Bangabandhu faced as a ruler of newly independent country.
- iii. To explore the philosophies of Bangabandhu to rule independent Bangladesh.
- iv. To explore the visions of Bangabandhu to reconstruct Bangladesh.
- v. To explore the visions of Bangabandhu to frame the legal structure of Bangladesh.
- vi. To explore the visions of Bangabandhu to ensure law enforcement in Bangladesh.
- vii. To explore the visions of Bangabandhu to streamline the courts and correction system in Bangladesh.
- viii. To explore the visions of Bangabandhu to prevent and punish crimes and corruption in Bangladesh.

- ix. To explore the visions of Bangabandhu to establish people's friendly pro-people law enforcement agencies in Bangladesh.

Research Objective 2: To analyze the understanding of Bangabandhu on people friendly policing. Specific research objectives under this broad objective are-

- i. To reveal the police reforms initiatives undertaken during the period from 1972 to 1975.
- ii. To delineate the trend of police practices that had been followed in the post-independent Bangladesh (1972 - 1975).
- iii. To analyze Bangabandhu's perception regarding people-friendly ideals in the police system.
- iv. To trace the motivating factors that led Bangabandhu for promoting the cause of people-friendly policing in Bangladesh.

Research Objective 3: To formulate policy recommendations for people-friendly policing in Bangladesh. Specific research objectives under this broad objective are-

- i. To review at what extent the current policing system accomplishing the goals and targets needed to become people's friendly.
- ii. To identify the obstacles being faced to achieving this goal.
- iii. To develop, in context to Bangladesh the indigenous ways and means for establishing people-friendly policing system.
- iv. To review different options and mechanisms to make police accountable to the communities.
- v. To analyze the present state of police-community relationship prevailing in Bangladesh and to see how far it commensurate with implementing people-friendly policing in Bangladesh.
- vi. To examine whether the present institutional environment/organizational structure is supportive to establishing people-friendly policing in Bangladesh.

Research Methodology

This proposed research will be an archival and empirical study. In order to understand (a) Bangabandhu's experiences of encountering police force until 1971 and (b) his vision of policing, the study will critically examine archival documents which include police reports, autobiography, speeches, newspaper reports, various official documents and the like. On the other hand, in order to examine the third objective of the study i.e. to explore the challenges, if any, of making democratic policing in the contemporary Bangladesh, several locations will be selected for the proposed study. In doing so, the research will draw upon three sets of qualitative data: one-to-one interviews, observations, and document analyses. Its design and methods will be tailored according to the specific research questions and objectives of this study. During our field study, data will be collected mainly from several police stations to understand the challenges they are facing to provide services to the people.

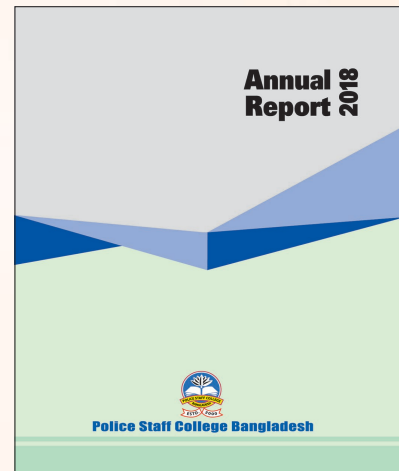

In addition to police personnel, in order to gain a broader understanding of the topic, data will also be gathered from other sources such as politicians, civil society actors, victims, and all other people concerned. Again, while data obtained from interviews will form the basis of our research data, we will continue to use literature and other kinds of primary documents to maintain a diverse range of perspectives. As a result, it is expected that our interview data and other types of documents will complement each other and help me to develop the main argument of the study.

Finally, our primary goal of this proposed study is to contribute significantly to the relevant knowledge with the claim of originality. Nonetheless, it is my aim to disseminate the results of the study in the form of a book and

PSCs' Challenges & Way Forward

Challenges

PSC is now facing the following significant challenges that need to be considered for its future course of action.

- Insufficient internal facilitators: PSC is very much dependent on outside speakers. Because of the frequent transfer of the faculty, PSC cannot develop its internal resource persons. It should have an internal panel of facilitators specialized on particular subject so that it can run its training sessions independently.
- Lack of manpower: Apart from facilitators, PSC's endeavor has also been hampered by a lack of other supporting staff. PSC is still suffering from a shortage of skilled manpower. Most of the under commands are working under deputation from various police units.
- Lack of experienced person to conduct quality research: PSC needs more experienced as well as interested person to conduct quality research.
- Limited infrastructural facilities: It has limited scope of infrastructure facilities. Now the present facilities only can accommodate several certificate programs. Some long term courses need more facilities like seminar room, syndicate room etc.
- Insufficient accommodation & logistics for the staff: PSC cannot provide sufficient accommodation for its staff. Not only that, it also has some significant shortage of logistic supports specially vehicle support. In that case the staff faces severe transport problem that eventually impact the management of training and research.
- Insufficient vehicle support for the participants and the guest speakers: Correspondingly PSC is lacking vehicle support for the participants and the guest speakers even for research which needs field study. It needs to be dependent on DMP or PHQ for vehicle support especially during its mega event like international conference or SAARC training.
- Constraints of library: PSC's library needs to be more advanced in terms of both spaces and richness. It still does not have on line access to online books, journals and reports.

Way Forward

1. Focus on capacity building: PSC should focus more on capacity building initiatives for the directing staff. In that case more training is needed for the PSC faculties.
2. Selection of officers committed to training and learning: It needs closer contact with PHQ so that officers who are dedicated and have thirst to knowledge are posted to PSC.
3. Engagement with national and international universities: PSC can make partnership with local and foreign universities who teach criminology and policing related issues. Based on such partnership PSC can make an exchange program for its faculties and this would also help its research activities.
4. Focus on research based study: Bangladesh Police needs more research- based policy implication that PSC can offer. Considering such significance, PSC faculties should be encouraged for having more research higher degrees either from local or from foreign universities. Devotion for Ph.D research would be highly appreciated in this regards. In that case, PSC can arrange some financial support for those personnel.
5. Giving importance on academic honesty for quality research: PSC has to buy plagiarism detection software to ensure academic honesty.
6. Taking initiatives for getting access to online resources: PSC should take necessary steps for getting online access to academic resources.
7. Implementation of e-learning process: In line with the Government of Bangladesh's vision -2020, PSC should take necessary step for the immediate adoption of e-learning system.

8. Strengthening of Manpower: Institutional persuasion is needed to increase permanent staff so that PSC would not have to depend on deputation.
9. Strengthening of logistic support: For smooth functioning of education, training and research activities, PSC's logistic support should be upgraded, in particular vehicle. Hence, a close official communication with PHQ is needed to increase those facilities.
10. Accommodation for PSC staff: Since there are insufficient residential facilities for officials of PSC, initiatives are needed to prepare a plan for building up a multi storied dormitory for senior officers to mitigate this problem.
11. Efforts to move pending rules of PSC: Active and continuous drive is urgent to make sure that those rules come into existence.
12. Ensuring green commitment: In order to keep its premise as environmental friendly, PSC should follow some green commitments, such as installation of automatic timing for lights and air conditioning controllers to reduce energy consumption, embracing e-learning software and reducing paper use, recycling of paper printer, toner cartridge and waste.
